DEATH KNELL OF DYNASTY NEARING

Rebel Leader Declines to Enter Negotiations Unless Emperor Abdicates

CIVIL WAR TREATENS IF
MANCHU RULE CONTINUES

Rebels Capture Native City of Shanghai Early—Garrison Resisted Feebly

PEKIN, Nov. 3.—Grave revolts in the imperial army today threw Pekin into a panic. News was received by the government that the cavalry and artillery battalions at Tsinan, Shan Tung had revolted and captured the arsenal at Tschau. In Yunnan province the imperial troops have practically joined the revolt by issuing a declaration of independence.

Li Luen Heng's refusal to negotiate with Yuan Shi Kai, the premier of China, unless the emperor abdicates, is believed to be a death blow to the Manchu dynasty. It is reported that Gen. Yuan Shi Kai has telegraphed the government pessimistically regarding the outcome of the negotiations. In well informed circles here it is believed possible that the northern provinces might accept the concessions of the throne but the southern provinces probably would secede, bringing on a civil war and almost certain foreign intervention.

The government here has been frightened into abolishing the news censorship but telegraph service throughout the empire is so disorganized that reliable news is meager.

NATIVE CITY OF SHANGHAI

CAPTURED TODAY BY REBELS
SHANGHAI, Nov. 3.—The rebels today captured the native city of Shanghai without serious fighting. The foreign settlements are under guard and all preparations have been made to protect the lives of European citizens in case that fighting should begin again. There is believed to be little danger of this at this time, however, as the revolutionist force so far outnumbered the already disloyal imperial garrison as to make resistance impossible.

BRITISH CONSTITUTION

IS MODEL FOR CHINA
PEKIN, Nov. 3.—The national assembly has adopted the British constitution as the model for China. The powers of the sovereign are curtailed to the minimum.

The assembly took action on the constitution following the promulgation of an edict taking that power from Prince Pu and other nobles.

IMPERIALISTS MASSACRE

THOUSANDS AFTER VICTORY
PEKIN, Nov. 3.—Intoxicated over their success against the rebels in capturing the city of Hankow, the imperial troops broke from the control of their officers and massacred several thousand men, women and children and have thrown their bodies to the flames kindled in celebration of a wild orgy against the Chinese.

This news, coming to the war office yesterday, is confirmed by a dispatch to the German legation. It shows that China, without government and torn from end to end by riot and revolt, faces the new peril of massacre. The last vestige of power has been taken from the emperor and his Manchu clansmen.

The news of the massacres and the burning of the native city of Hankow has caused a panic in Pekin and thousands are leaving or preparing to leave the city. In many sections of the city the doors of business houses are closed, while private residences are barred.

The American missionaries held a prolonged conference at the American legation yesterday and decided that a few soldiers placed in each of the four large mission compounds will prevent ordinary outlawry and looting.

LADY COLIN CAMPBELL DEAD

She was the youngest daughter of Edmond Maghlin Blood, whose estates in County Clare, Ireland, have been held in the family since the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

Orange Woman Gave Child A $10 Spanking

Mrs. Mary Jane Milligan of Orange paid a fine of $10 in Justice Cox's court yesterday afternoon on a charge of battery. She said she got her money's worth, and felt no sorrow at the parting with the coin. Mrs. Milligan lives at Orange. The family of Antonio Colursado lives in the neighborhood. There are children in each family. According to the first information obtained, concerning the view of Mrs. Milligan, the Colursado children had it in for the Milligan children, and made their dislike known by use of missiles whenever the Milligan children sought to go in the back yard to feed the chickens or to play. Mrs. Milligan stood it about as long as she could. She caught a Colursado child named Modest and to that child Mrs. Milligan administered chastisement that caused a subdued air to settle on the Colursado children. Their father swore to a complaint charging Mrs. Milligan with using force and violence upon Modest Colursado, to which charge Mrs. Milligan pleaded guilty.

LANE URGES COMMISSION

Declares Need of National Body to Control Interstate Business

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Interstate Commerce Commissioner Franklin K. Lane of California, in a statement here today, urges the controlling of interstate business by a National commission.

"I believe it would be wise to establish a commission acting much as the Interstate Commerce Commission," said Commissioner Lane. "Upon complaint that they are exercising oppression as against their competitors, by reasons combinations, and as a result of it, have increased the cost of their commodities, private enterprises should be regulated and controlled in the same manner as the Interstate Commerce Commission now regulates and controls railroad rates."

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE
LATER BY EXECUTIVE

Lieut. Gov. Wallace Presented
Matters for Consideration at Extra Session

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 3.—At the conclusion of the conference held today between Governor Johnson and a number of senators and assemblymen of the state of California, Governor Johnson announced that the extra session of the legislature would be called during the first week in December, probably Monday, December 4.

Lieutenant Governor Wallace, who was late, on his arrival presented a number of claims that he wished considered at the extra session.

CONFERENCE WAS CALLED

BY GOVERNOR JOHNSON
SACRAMENTO, Nov. 3.—Governor Johnson conferred today with nearly a hundred legislators, members of the Senate and Assembly, today on matters pertaining to the special session of the legislature which it is expected will be held early in December. Originally it was intended that only three matters should be considered at the special session—the amendments, reapportionment, and the state tax system.

So many requests have been received for special legislation, however, that the executive decided upon this means of thrashing them out.

The conference is being held in the Senate chamber in the south wing of the capitol.

ELEVEN MEN PASSED FOR McNAMARA JURY

Believed Peremptory Challenge Stage
Will Be Reached by Noon Tomorrow
—New Panel Today.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Eleven men have now been passed for cause subject to elimination only by peremptory challenge when the McNamara murder trial was interrupted by the luncheon recess today. As a result, it is generally considered certain that the peremptory challenge stage will be reached not later than the noon adjournment tomorrow.

A new panel of jurors was drawn today, and one of the first names was that of Harry Chandler, vice president of the Times-Mirror Company, and assistant general manager of the Los Angeles Times. This morning's session resulted in securing one juror, Byron Lisk, a Pasadena mill man. At noon recess Assistant District Attorney Horton was trying to eliminate H. D. Blinkiron, a local real estate dealer, and a friend of Job Harriman. In order to eliminate him, Horton attacked his eligibility, trying to show him improperly on the taxroll, although the juror swore positively that when the roll was made up that he owned personally all the property on which he was assessed. In a divorce case, he made affidavit he did not own any property, and Horton tried to impeach him because of that fact. Failing definitely to do so, Horton finally dropped the matter temporarily after getting permission from the court to challenge him later on his property qualifications, should it be necessary.

"I beg herewith to tender my resignation as your pastor. Strong in the consciousness of my innocence, and firmly persuaded that God will in His own good time lift this burden from me, nevertheless, I feel that I should not permit the shadow resting across my life to darken the religious welfare of my church or its people, whom I love. Therefore, I deem it my duty to place the church in a position to select my successor. With heartfelt thanks for many kindnesses by each and all, I am sincerely yours."

MAY SEEK TO WIPE THEM OFF

Committee Informed Many on Great Register Can't Read
the Constitution

AFFIDAVITS SHOW
AFFIRMATIVE OATH

Opponents of Saloon May Start Action in the Superior Court

That the committee that has in charge the fight against allowing saloons to go into the fifth supervisorial district proposes to bring an action in court to compel a large number of voters of the fifth district to show cause why their names should not be removed from the Great Register became known today. The members of the committee believe that a goodly proportion of the Spanish and Mexican voters of the district are illegally registered in that they cannot read the constitution of the state. Whether or not the committee will take the proposed action before the election of Nov. 25 remains to be seen.

When the matter was first brought to the attention of the committee it was not known that the women would be allowed to vote. It was then thought well to take action against those alleged to be red illegals. Now that the women are going to vote, and the question of saloons is as good as decided against saloons, the committee may conclude to bring the action as a public duty, believing that since they have the information that they should take action as citizens to purge the rolls.

There were about 175 names attached to the petition asking for the election. A large number of the petitioners were Spanish or Mexican voters, nearly all of them being California born. A member of the committee has stated that his information is to the effect that one-third of the petitioners cannot read the constitution. That looks too large a proportion to be true. All of the signatures are in the handwriting of the petitioners, which if nothing else goes to prove that they can write their names.

The law requiring that a voter be able to read the constitution went into effect in 1894, and all native-born who were then of voting age could not be deprived of their franchise. Those who have become of age since that time must make affidavit that they can read the constitution in the English language.

In registering a voter, a registration clerk does not make him read the constitution. The person registering answers the question: "Can you read the constitution in the English language?" He answers in the affirmative. He signs his name to the affidavit, and the clerk is authorized to go no further. If the man perjures himself in making the affidavit, the deputy taking the registration is as helpless as when a man applies for a marriage license and swears that the girl is 19 years of age when she is but 17. The deputy has to take the affidavit for it, and that is the way the voters who signed the petition were registered.

The law lays down a plan whereby anyone illegally registered may be taken from the roll. Any citizen can go into the superior court and compel that a showing be made.

County Clerk Williams when asked concerning the matter today said that it is possible that there are a few of those who signed the petition who cannot read the constitution in the English language, but the affidavits of registration show that each voter signed an affidavit to the effect that he can read the constitution in the English language, and the registration deputy had no authority to go further than take the man's affidavit.

THREE TEACHERS IN THE MISSION SCHOOL

San Juan Capistrano Is Well Pleased With Attractive New Building

SAN JUAN, CALIF., Nov. 3.—The new schoolhouse erected during the summer was put into use last Monday for the first time, and for the first time in the history of the village the school had three teachers instead of two. The community is well pleased with the attractive building. The new principal is Mr. Ferguson from Los Angeles, and the other teachers are Miss Clara Munger of El Toro and Miss Inez Johnson of Fallbrook. This has been a prosperous year here. Grain and walnuts are bringing top-notch prices. These crops were both big, and the product unusually fine.

EL TORO WAREHOUSE IS SHIPPING GRAIN

A Pleasant Hallowe'en Party Given at Home of Mrs. John Prothero

EL TORO, Nov. 3.—Grain is being shipped from the warehouse. This was a fine year for the grain growers, for the yield was good and the prices high. In all directions one sees the smoke of stubble where the ranchers are burning off the fields. Tuesday evening a very pleasant Hallowe'en party was given by Mrs. John Prothero to the children in honor of Miss O'Brien, teacher of the El Toro school. Miss Kate Munger expects to open her store at Myford in about two months. The building is now being erected.

Why Saloons Should Be Kept Out of the Fifth Supervisorial District

NOT BY MY VOTE

Every good citizen, every citizen worthy of the name, is under obligation to do his utmost on every occasion and by every legitimate means to put out and keep out the licensed saloon. Voters, if you wish to be in this class of citizens dare you allow the saloon, at the coming election, to be granted a license in the Fifth Supervisorial District of Orange county?

"Why not?" you say; "the district collects revenue from the saloon."

"Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood and establisheth a city by iniquity," and "woe unto them which justify the wicked for reward." You, voter, if you vote in saloons justify the wicked for reward. Woe unto them which justify, legalize and protect the liquor traffic for a license fee, for the reward of revenue. Let the saloons stop making the poor and then we will not need license money.

"But," you say, "the liquor dealer must make his living. It is only a form of business." I say the saloon-keeper can change his business. He has no right to support himself and family by the impoverishment and ruin of other families.

Some say that the saloon-keeper does not force his drinks upon the people; that many men drink with moderation, and "personal liberty" should not be denied to anyone.

A man's "personal liberties" should end when they become a menace to his fellow-men. "Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink" and "It is good neither to eat flesh nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth or is offended or is made weak."

You talk of "respectable saloons." No saloon ever yet made a man; no saloon ever yet made a woman, or ever gave manly courage to the one or the jewel of virtue to the other. "A saloon can no more be run without using up boys than a flouring mill without wheat or a saw mill without logs. The only question is: Whose boys? Our boys or our neighbors?"

"No man liveth unto himself." The influences of one's life reach out and touch other lives—whether one wishes it or not. As we travel along the way of life somebody is following us. If we take the right course we will lead them to safety; if we do not there is danger ahead for both.

Voters, take these words of Hale Johnston's, "Not by my vote," as your motto. He says: "If they say to us, 'Men will have it,' we can answer, 'Not by my vote.' If another says, 'Men will sell it,' again reply, 'Not by my vote.' If we are told we must be politic, we answer 'Not by my vote.' I am not bound to abolish the saloon, but only my interest in it. My vote may not hurt the saloon, but I am bound to vote it right all the same. Saloons may go on, like the brook, forever. Men may die in them like flies, and hell grow fat on drunkards. Girls may be betrayed and boys baited hellward. Truth may be wrecked and character dismantled. Homes may be destroyed and women and children beggared. Soldiers' homes may still sell drink to the old veterans, and army canteens debauch the young ones. Our national capitol may have a saloon at either end. Senators and representatives may be drunk on the floors of congress, 'but not by my vote.'"

RECREATION PARK BEING PLANNED FOR RIVERSIDE

Riverside Press. A movement is under way to supply one of Riverside's long felt wants. It is planned to form a stock company to promote a recreation park for the city, and the men having the matter in hand have their eyes on a tract of land just outside the city limits which they consider to be nearly ideal for the purpose. It is large enough and has sufficient natural advantages to make it one of the truly noteworthy amusement centers of the kind in the United States.

Members of the Riverside Motorcycle club are among the prime movers in the enterprise and other residents of the city have shown a lively interest in the proposition. Local business men for a long time past have disapproved of the way in which every sporting event Riverside were interested in had to be held away from home and so pay toll to transportation companies and outside trades people instead of putting more money in circulation right here.

The necessity to abandon the proposed Thanksgiving motorcycle races in Riverside served to some extent to crystallize sentiment which has existed in an undefined form for some time, and the interest and belief expressed by Dave Altizer, the baseball man, in the proposal, was a decided encouragement.

The fact that the county is lacking suitable grounds for holding a fair is thought to furnish some reason for expecting county support in the undertaking. It is tentatively suggested that a stock company be formed, the stock of which shall be subscribed to by local men interested in sports, by the business interests of the city, by the general public and by the county. With any such support as this the park could be fitted for all the purposes a recreation park is ever used for and would be a center of attraction for Southern Californians and the winter tourists.

It is suggested that the new baseball grounds being laid out and improved could be moved and so become part of the general recreation park. Superintendent Poole of the Crestmore Cement Company, has been approached by men interested in this movement as to the probability of his concern being willing to lease certain of its properties for the undertaking. It is said that ten years is the period that would be desired by those back of the amusement proposition.

If the matter is carried through, it is planned to have tracks suitable for horse races, automobile races and for motorcycle races. This fact will tend to bring to the support of the movement the various classes of men interested in these different sports. The tentative program calls for tracks that would surpass in length and facility for holding race meets anything now existing in the United States.

READY TO SEE THEIR RIVALS

Santa Ana Football Team Is to Meet Strong Anaheim
Tomorrow

The Santa Ana team getting ready to meet Anaheim tomorrow closed its week's practice last evening with some fast scrimmage. The boys were in fine "pep" and look good to put up a fast game tomorrow. This afternoon they are talking rules and plays in the coach's room at the high school.

Tomorrow the team will have a new line-up. In the back field Captain Newcomer will play quarter with the two "spuds" in halfback positions and Barker at full. It is a new position for Newcomer but the logical one for the captain. Barker is not only new to the fullback job but new to the game. His great weight should count for yards when he is given the ball, and before the end of the season he should be the best fullback in high school circles in California. Jack's experience in the game should make good at quarter in spite of his newness to the position.

The "Spuds," big and little, are the "finds" of the season. Both are speedy and hardy players and on the job all the time. Their only fault, and this should not be charged against them, is their size.

"Brick" has been out of practice all week with a boil until last evening. His punting in scrimmage was not his best but his placement kicking in practice was good with a record of three goals out of fifteen tries from the 35-yard line. In the game tomorrow row Anaheim's goal will be in danger anywhere within the 45-yard line. What the line-up of the line will be is not known except that reliable "Bill" Warren will be at center, Visel at left-tackle with Swannie and Greeley probably at guards when the game opens.

A lot of ends will be given a tryout—Timmons, Lantz, McPhee, Tidball, West, Byrket, all will be used. The sub linemen are Catland, Schorley, Winbigler, Peitt and Shrewsbury. The game will be called at 2:30. Mr. Harry Williams who refereed in a number of University of South Dakota games last year will officiate tomorrow. The game should be one of the best of the season as Anaheim is reported to have one of the strongest teams in the county.

A GREAT DISCOVERY

Certain Ingredients That Really Promote Hair Growth When Properly Combined

—Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its natural nourishment, and also creates a clean, healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpin, although not a coloring matter or dye, is a well-known ingredient for restoring the hair to its natural color, when the loss of hair has been caused by a disease of the scalp.

These ingredients in proper combination, with alcohol added as a stimulant and for its well defined nourishing properties, perfect, perhaps the most effective remedy that is known for scalp and hair troubles.

We have a remedy which is chiefly composed of these ingredients, in combination with other extremely invaluable medicinal agents. We guarantee it to positively cure dandruff and to grow hair, even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair. If there is any vitality left in the roots, it will positively cure baldness, or we will refund your money. If the scalp has a glazed, shiny appearance, it's an indication that baldness is permanent, but in other instances we believe baldness is curable.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease or loss of hair to try Rexal "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not cure dandruff and grow hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. We print this guarantee on every bottle. It has effected a positive cure in 93 per cent of cases where put to a practical test.

Rexal "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike, and we think, in every particular, better than anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is prescribed. We urge you to try this preparation at our entire risk. Certainly we know of no better guarantee to give you. Remember, you can obtain Rexal Remedies in Santa Ana only at our store—The Rexal Store, Dean's Drug Store, 104 West Fourth street.

BURNED AUTO HALLOWE'EN

Crime Committed Evidently
With Intent to Vent Feeling
Against Physician

Huntington Beach News: Taking advantage of the liberty usually allowed on Halloween to commit mischievous pranks which do not injure persons or property, unknown miscreants entered the garage of Dr. D. A. Clark in the Vista Del Mar section of this city last Tuesday evening or early after midnight and removed his automobile to the baseball grounds and burned it, entirely destroying the machine except some of its least important portions. News of the crime spread rapidly Wednesday morning and after the first expressions of incredulity—for people were loath to believe that in this community resided persons capable of committing the crime—there was a universal feeling of indignation. Special meetings of the city trustees and of the Board of Trade were called by the proper officers to take action, expressing the feelings of both bodies and of this city in general towards the guilty parties.

The sheriff's office at Santa Ana was promptly notified of the crime and every effort will be made to find those responsible for the deplorable affair and to mete out to them their deserved punishment.

Pass Resolutions
A big crowd on Wednesday evening attended a special meeting of the Board of Trade called by Vice President W. D. Seely to consider recent lawlessness in Huntington Beach. A. L. Reed introduced the following resolutions which after a brief discussion was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, The pranks of Halloween have been yearly increasing in Huntington Beach and have become, not simply harmless practical jokes and petty annoyances, but have this year culminated in the wanton destruction of property and in serious interference with the peace and well-being of this community and beyond all that can be countenanced by law-abiding citizens; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Huntington Beach Board of Trade, in special meeting assembled, does condemn in unmeasured terms acts of lawlessness and wanton destruction of property as exemplified in last night's doings here, and that this organization and all its membership pledge their efforts and influence in bringing to justice the perpetrators of the outrage committed in the destruction of property under the guise of Halloween license."

Louis Paul Hart, secretary of the Board of Trade and editor of the Huntington Beach News, then introduced the following resolution: "Resolved, That this body strongly condemns the circulation of slanderous reports by any of its members or by other citizens of this city, tending to create unnecessary friction in this community and so retarding its commercial advancement."

In presenting the resolution, the secretary detailed a conversation held by him on Wednesday morning with a citizen of Huntington Beach, in the presence of another citizen, in which the former made sweeping assertions attacking the honesty and veracity of members of the board of city trustees, the local justice of the peace and newspaper.

"Such reckless slander," said the proponent of the resolution, "almost invites the commission of unlawful acts and strongly tends to create and foster dissensions which can only result in retarding the progress of Huntington Beach."

The resolution was enthusiastically adopted without a dissenting vote.

Various Pranks
The usual pranks incident to Halloween were performed here Tuesday evening. A buggy belonging to N. C. Carroll was hauled all the way from Eleventh street and Acacia avenue to the Stearns realty office on Main street and placed on the roof of the building. A number of hats were turned loose in the News office through a screened transom, the screen being loosened. Various doors were blocked with old boxes and a cow, belonging about three blocks away, was tied to the front veranda of the Huntington Inn. Some of the pranks evidenced only a spirit of mischief while others showed a spirit of malice. So far as heard from, no one had the temerity to kidnap the city marshal.

NOT SALTS, OIL OR PILLS BUT CASCARETS

No Odds How Sick Your Stomach;
How Hard Your Head Aches or
How Bilious—Cascarets
Make You Feel Great

—You men and women who somehow can't get feeling right—who have an almost daily headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.

HINTS TO MOTHERS ON RIGHT WAY TO CARE FOR BABIES

Los Angeles Examiner: The care of babies is given considerable attention in the monthly bulletin of the health department just issued by Health Commissioner L. M. Powers. Some of Dr. Powers' suggestions follow:

Clean milk makes healthy babies. Milk should be kept at a temperature below 50 degrees until prepared for baby.

Milk should be given to baby at a temperature of 100 degrees.

The baby is made sick by improper or too much food.

Feed baby with regularity and do not think it needs food every time it cries.

Give baby a few spoonfuls of sterilized water during the day.

All utensils used in the preparation of baby's food should be sterilized (boiled for twenty minutes).

Nursing bottles and nipples should be boiled before each time used.

Keep more than two or three milk bottles and nipples on hand.

The hole in baby's nipple should not be too large, but just large enough for the milk to flow out drop by drop.

Do not keep milk more than twenty-four hours, even though it seems sweet—never give old milk to babies.

Consider that the laying capacity of a fly is 120 eggs—that eggs hatch in about eleven days. Where there is one fly now, there may be one hundred and twenty in less than two weeks. Prevent that possibility—kill the one fly now!

Better spend a few minutes each day killing flies than to spend five weeks in bed with typhoid. There is always the chance of not recovering from typhoid.

Dispose of that typhoid danger—the fly.

Don't have the household waste unburnt or unburied.

Don't use public drinking cups or towels.

Melting Potatoes

Wash, peel and boil in salted water about eight potatoes. When done drain and dry over the fire for a moment. Take each potato and press it firmly in a cloth so as to give it a round shape. Place in a buttered baking dish, pour over half a pint of stock, put a piece of butter on each potato, season with salt and pepper and bake in the oven until the potatoes have absorbed all the stock. Potatoes cooked in this way melt in the mouth, hence the name.

CIVIC PRINCIPLES APPLIED

Among the principles of civil government the following are accepted universally, and many of them have been pronounced by the highest courts of our nation in cases involving principles of close relation. They are not the croonings of extremists or cranks, but most of them are in almost the identical language of great jurists.

1. Every government has a well-established claim upon the life and property of each of its citizens; wherefore no citizen has any right to deteriorate his life or waste his property.

2. No member of any government is wholly his own. Every neighbor, as also the government, has a positive and well-established claim upon him which overrides and overrules his personal liberty. So strong and so universally recognized is this claim that, should he refuse to endanger, or even surrender, his life when called upon by his government, he would stultify himself in the eyes of the whole world.

3. Government rests upon the consent of the governed; and the more perfectly each citizen submits his personality to the welfare of the state the more nearly ideal the government becomes.

4. Every citizen is an integral part of his government, and has no inherent personal right to weaken that government either by making himself incapable of his best citizenship by self-indulgence, or by refusing to exercise his proper functions, and especially not by making himself a burden to the body politic.

5. To protect every one of its citizens from injury or debauchery is one of the first duties of all governments, even though it may appear that the citizen repulses the protection and desires to debauch himself. It is merely a matter of governmental self-protection.

6. GOVERNMENT CAN EVER BE LEGALLY OR MORALLY EXCUSED FOR ENTERING INTO ANY SORT OF PARTNERSHIP OR FELLOWSHIP WITH ANY POWER WHICH WILL DEBAUCH ITS CITIZENS, NOR FOR GIVING ANY SUCH INSTITUTION ANY PROTECTION OR LEGAL APPROVAL.

7. It is the perpetual and imperative duty of government to protect its citizenship from debauchery whether the debauching influence comes from within or without.

8. NO GOVERNMENT HAS ANY RIGHT TO DEBAUCH ITS CITIZENSHIP, NO MATTER WHAT CIRCUMSTANCES MAY SEEM TO EXCUSE OR WARRANT SUCH A PROCEDURE.

These principles stand unquestioned and unchallenged. As has been said, most of them have been plainly set forth by our courts in official capacity. It would seem that every good citizen might subscribe to them.

And, because the people of the Fifth Supervisorial district are good citizens, they are working to keep out of their community one of the most harmful of all institutions, the licensed saloon. If any segment of citizenship will debauch itself the people at large are fully determined that it shall not be with their approval. If any insist on not only weakening themselves, but, in many cases, making themselves public charges, it will not be with the consent of the people of the district. If a few refuse to protect themselves it becomes the duty of the many to protect them, even though it be against their will.

RESPONSIBILITY IS CONSERVATIVE

Although it is fully conceded that the 20,000 votes given Harriman at the Los Angeles primary were not all Socialist votes—not by many thousands—the Socialist strength shown is acknowledged to be remarkable.

The 435 Socialists now holding office in the United States are distributed in thirty-three states and 160 election districts and municipalities. There are twenty-eight mayors, 167 aldermen, one congressman, one state senator and sixteen state representatives who have been elected as Socialists. Most of them are the choice of electors in the Middle West. There, significantly enough, rather than in the congested centers of population along the Atlantic seaboard have the practical political victories by this party been won. Moreover, even there the successes have been in small villages and towns, not in the larger communities; a condition of affairs quite contrary to the experience of Europe with socialism.

There are no statistics available for either the friends or foes of socialism showing that it has won any strong grip upon the United States. "Where socialism has won adherents," according to the view of the Christian Science Monitor, "it has been due less to conversion to the scheme as such and more to the desire to experiment with any proposed panacea for economic conditions that are disliked and provocative of revolt. 'Class conscious' Marxian socialism has not flourished so much as a form of opportunism in politics that has been willing to fight under any banner to gain social ends and to check the growth of individualism in its most extreme forms. Already, at this early stage of the movement in this country, it has been decided that the French rather than the historic German model of party tactics shall govern, and that a program shall be followed, as in Milwaukee, that will attract the support of those electors who believe in the extension of municipal functions, stricter control of public utilities, and pronounced departures from the individualism of mid-nineteenth century liberal politics and economics.

"Consequently, because of this moderate practical policy of theory as well as because of the sobering and conservative influence that responsibility always brings, those investigators of the socialist movement in the United States who know most about it and write most intelligently about its present and future, are not alarmed as much as they would be were a more radical policy outlined. The Anglo-American tradition and experience are all favorable to the opportunist policy of the French and American socialist and hostile to the doctrinarism of Marx and Bebel. Even the latter veteran of late has succumbed to the inevitable and German socialists hereafter will be found to be far more tractable and practical.

"All 'isms' are more 'istic' the younger they are and the less administrative responsibility they incur. With the necessity of synthesis criticism abates. With the duty of constructive legislation advocacy on the hustings moderates its tone. If Juarez ever had been where Briand has as premier of France he would talk less and think more. John Burns is not more conservative today because he is less democratic in ideal but because as a responsible administrator he has found out that society and politics are more complex than he once thought them to be."

FIRST WOMAN JURY
MAKES HISTORY IN TOWN OF WATTS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—Twelve women, good and true, stood before Justice Thomas V. Cassidy in Watts yesterday and answered "So say we all," when asked to affirm their verdict in a trial without precedent in American jurisprudence.

These twelve women, forming a jury of American citizens, made judicial history. Their task was to decide if A. A. King, a publisher of Watts, was guilty as charged, or if his act in publishing certain literature, did not come within the scope of the law.

After taking testimony, the women jurors adjourned to the jury room. Two ballots were taken before they concluded that King had not violated the ordinance under which he was charged with a misdemeanor.

FIRST COMPLETE WOMAN JURY TO SERVE IN U. S.

Mrs. Carrie A. Ray, foreman; Mrs. B. G. Wallace, Mrs. A. H. Timble, Mrs. Mary Bower, Mrs. Nellie Moomau, Mrs. N. Steiner, Mrs. J. Hill, Mrs. Essie Finney, Mrs. Bertha Scherner, Mrs. Eva E. LEMON RATE CASE
WILL BE REOPENED

Hearing on Famous Case Will Be Had in Washington on November 15

Los Angeles Times.—Officials of the railroads entering in Los Angeles were advised yesterday that the Interstate Commerce Commission will reopen the famous lemon rate case in Washington on the 15th inst. It was immediately decided that various officials would go to Washington for the hearing. These include: F. A. Wann, general traffic manager, and S. A. Halsted, general counsel, both of the Salt Lake; G. W. Luce, assistant to Vice-President McCormick of the Southern Pacific, and Edward Chambers, freight traffic manager of the Santa Fe. G. Harold Powell, manager of the Citrus Protective League, has announced that that organization will be represented at the hearing.

Originally the Interstate Commerce Commission reduced the freight rates to the Atlantic sea board from $1.15 to $1 a hundred rates. The railroads obtained an injunction, which put the old rate in force. The information received yesterday was to the effect that the commission intends putting in a graded rate on lemons until the railroads would agree to retain the blanket system at a reasonable rate.

EXHIBIT OPENS TONIGHT

Arts and Crafts Display From City Schools—Great Show of Chrysanthemums

Tonight the combined Arts and Crafts Exhibit and Chrysanthemum Show, being given by the Ebell Society and the Santa Ana city schools, opens in full swing at Spurgeon's Hall. Exhibits are in place and the "mums" are in evidence in their regal loveliness.

There are many educational features in the exhibit, including art work from every grade of the public schools from high school to kindergarten; furniture from the Sloyd department of the manual training school, with needlework and candy from the domestic science department.

There is a sand table to interest the little ones, and to please the older people there is a department of curios and relics in the loan exhibit, besides lovely hand painted china plaques and other pictures by Miss Minnie Childs, a recent comer to Tustin. Miss Ava Wells, Herman Reuter and others have paintings on exhibit. Mrs. J. A. Rowland has loaned her magnificent Indian work collection, and Mrs. A. J. Padgham has sent in fine Navajo rugs and blankets. These are but a few of the more prominent exhibits.

The work of the school children is marvelous in all lines shown, and no one should fail to see their handiwork.

The chrysanthemum show bids fair to outshine anything in a floral way ever placed before Santa Ana people. Many of the splendid blossoms were grown by the school children. Any one interested in the city schools should make a special effort to attend the splendid exhibit which opens this evening at 7:30 o'clock, and tomorrow at 10 a.m., lasting until 10 p.m.

We have endeavored to show that subjective as well as objective mental processes are necessary to the best accomplishments of every good singer.

More and more is the modern vocal teacher studying the psychological aspects of the singing problem, of which there are many and various.

The successful teacher must be a good suggestionist. He must be able to make his pupil sense and visualize his tone. He must be able, through the pupil's imagination to create tonal ideas for him. The most highly successful teachers do not present their own tones—let them be ever so good as models for the pupil to imitate, in Pol-parrot fashion.

Great singers, in fact, make it a point to find voice builders and coaches who do not sing at all simply to avoid the possibility of mimicking in the slightest degree.

Quite a majority of the world's greatest vocal masters have been persons who were not themselves singers.

ART CLUB MEETING

Sculpture Discussed From the Cave Man Down to Days of Greek Art

The Art Club met with Miss Cubison on North Main street Tuesday evening to discuss "Sculpture." Miss May began with the first sculptor, the cave man, who laboriously carved charms and household utensils from bone or reindeer horn, or perhaps chiseled on a cliff in the flush of victory; "killed a bear, swam a deep stream; met a strange man and killed him." We can now read those scratches because they are like our Indian pictures.

After thousands of years in which little is known of art, we come to Egyptian art which is well advanced. Egyptian art, though dreamy and idealistic impresses one with its monotony. We find hundreds of figures of the same type and miles of sphinx, figures of huge size sitting idly gazing across the desert.

The art of Assyria is realistic. It is a glorification of strength and power. The Assyrian excels in animals. Rosa Bonheur writes to a friend, "I have been to the Louvre to study the Assyrian lions." This art, although stopped by the Persian conquest could never have reached the highest art. Only a poetic people like the Greeks could do that.

The Phoenicians were goldsmiths of the heroic age, who made Solomon's golden throne and cast the brazen sea for the temple. This art was initiated by the Greeks, but the discovery of bronze and of cutting in marble gave sculpture a start in the right direction. They studied direct from nature and each man did his best. From the heroic age, where the figures grew less clumsy and the action more natural to the perfected art of the Greeks.

Miss Terrell discussed the perfected art of the Greeks. Beginning with the aim of the Greek artists. "To represent well the clearest mental images of the times," Miss Terrell dwelt upon the spirit of Greek art, which was under way of neither priest nor despot but was the natural outcome of a period of civic unity and national prosperity.

Beginning with the period of Phidias, by means of many pictures, the groups of figures on the Parthenon were studied. The period of Proxenos and Scopas, the greatest masters in the expression of the passions of the human soul was then taken up. The hour growing late, Miss Terrell's preparation being thorough and the pictures interesting, it was decided to continue this subject at the next meeting.

Jolly Halloween Party

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap at the corner of Garfield and First streets, there was one of the most delightful Halloween parties on the evening of Oct. 31. After the doings of the evening, then came the "good things to eat." Mrs. Dunlap's famous pumpkin pie, cake and other delicious viands were enjoyed. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Hufford, Edgar Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. Greenfield.

IN METHODIST CIRCLES

S. S. Board Banquets and Hears Reports; Reception for Pastor's Parents

The monthly meeting of the Sunday School Board of the First Methodist church held this week was one of the most pleasant of its kind. The members of the board fortified themselves for the business of the evening with an excellent supper served in the banquet room of the church at 6:30 o'clock, chrysanthemums being used in table decorations.

During the meeting later, W. P. Coffman, the recently elected Sunday school superintendent, presided. Reports from the various departments showed encouraging progress. The average attendance on Sunday school during the month was reported as 386.

Several new officers were elected as follows: Mrs. R. H. McArthur, superintendent of Cradle Roll; C. W. Burns, Enrollment Secretary; Mrs. Stearns, Intermediate Superintendent; Mrs. Weber, Mr. Schooley and Miss Chamberlain, teachers; Miss Margaret Allen, Home Department Visitor.

The friends made by Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Murkett, of Sarasota, Florida, father and mother of Rev. H. E. Murkett, pastor of the First Methodist church, have been regretting for some time that they will start for their Florida home tomorrow. As a token of the affection they have won among the people of their son's church here, Mr. and Mrs. Murkett were made the guests of honor at a reception this week, at which the ladies of the church were hostesses. The reception was held at the parsonage, which was charmingly decorated with roses and chrysanthemums. In addition to the social chat that enlivened the hours, a reading was given by Rev. Murkett, and vocal solos by Mrs. W. E. Garrett, Messrs. F. P. Jayne and C. C. Conway. Later Southern melodies were sung by the company. The serving of delicious refreshments closed the pleasant evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Murkett have passed the past five months in Sunny Southern California, and it is quite safe to say that they do not compare it unfavorably with their own state, famous for charm of scenery and mild climate.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Head, prominent young people in the First Methodist church, was the scene of a jolly surprise party recently. The "surprise" was on Mr. Head and was cleverly planned by his charming wife for the celebration of his natal day. In order to get the head of the house away from his home while the guests arrived, a birthday supper was given at the home of Mr. Head's mother, with Mr. and Mrs. Head as guests. While they were away from their own residence, it was taken possession of by the surprising party, and a merry welcome greeted them when they returned home.

Mrs. Head had decorated the house beautifully with autumn leaves brought from the east, chrysanthemums being also used in the decorations. Guessing games and contests were enjoyed and Halloween stories were told.

When refreshments were served, a handsome birthday cake with candles told the story of Mr. Head's age. The ices were served in scooped-out apples, and a Halloween menu was followed.

Special Baraca Meeting

All the members of the Baraca class of the First Methodist church are urged to be present at a special meeting of the class, to be held this (Friday) evening at the home of Charles Robinson, corner Spurgeon street and Washington avenue, as final arrangements are to be made in regard to the Lyceum course to be presented by the class this winter.

Beck to Tell of Desert's Lure
Louis Westcott Beck has marched many miles with his famous Saint Bernard bloodhound, both equipped with canteens and knapsacks, such as are used in the trips through the desert regions, which are taken every year, and which have made the "Prospector and His Dog" famous because of numerous rescues made by them of men who were lost and could not find water holes. They have made several trips through the desert and saved three men whom the buzzards already had down. The great dog, weighing 95 pounds, travels with this man who has probably done more than any individual toward establishing guide posts along the most dangerous trails of the desert, and aiding prospectors. Mr. Beck has made about one hundred and fifty stereoscopic views of this desert, showing pictures of the desolation of Death Valley and Twenty-nine Palms, a typical desert oasis, where "Willie Boy" was born and

William Thursby, 417 East Walnut street, Santa Ana, Calif., says: "Off and on for years I was bothered by my back and kidneys. To stoop or walk a little distance made the dull, heavy ache in my back more severe and my rest was badly broken. Further evidence of it was that my kidneys were shown by a heavy sediment in the kidney secretions. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box at Dean's Drug Store and soon after I commenced their use, I noticed improvement. My back became strong and free from pain and the difficulty with the kidney secretions was corrected. (Statement given March 8, 1907.)"

"Merry Hearts" Party

The "Merry Hearts," a club of seven girls, made a merry Wednesday evening at the home of Helen Remsburg on North Main street. They spent much time and had spared no pains and expense in their decorations. The effect was beautiful. The porch and house were both utilized in the merry making.

The guests had been bidden to mask and when all had gathered together, it seemed as though everybody was there, from the popular characters of fairy land and folk lore to the typical "mammy" and her "bles' chil'."

Substantial refreshments of tamales, sandwiches, chocolate and candies were served. Pretty place cards and little pumpkin pie souvenirs were mementos of the jolly affair.

The "Merry Hearts" are Helen Carden, Isabelle Anderson, Arvilla Ball, Norma Wingood, Claire McPhee, Marguerite Robinson, Helen Remsburg. They were the hostesses, and their guests were Gladys Thomas, Lila Crane, Lillian Walker, Lillian Fisher, Rea Shaul, Merle Obar, Dorothy Mead, Ruth Harding, Helen Roberts and Hattie and Marjorie Shaw.

OSTEOPATHY

It might be inferred from articles appearing in the Register under this head that osteopathy was only applicable in chronic diseases, this, however, is not the case. Osteopathic treatment is equally successful in acute troubles. Headaches, eye, ear, nose and throat diseases when due to a lack of proper circulation of blood or an interrupted nerve supply, yield quickly to manipulation that restores these to normal—chest diseases, when not too far advanced (for nature to restore the wasted issues can be benefited, and in many instances cured. In these diseases the work of the osteopathic physician is to raise the ribs, expand the chest and free up the circulation of blood. The heart and lungs supply cannot work when crowded and held down by a flat, distorted chest wall. This is what the osteopaths call a mechanical obstruction to vital forces, and what could be more reasonable than to mechanically relax the contracted muscles and expand the chest. In diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels, we usually find an interrupted nerve supply, for the healthy action of these organs depends so much upon a free nerve supply. I believe the osteopathic school has added greatly to medical knowledge in this respect, for thousands of cases of stomach, liver and bowel troubles have been cured by this method when everything else had failed, and the reason is that the osteopath has gone directly to the nerve centers in the spine and found the trouble and by removing it has set nature's forces free—and what a change in the general health when these organs begin to function properly—constipation gone, digestion good, the liver working regularly, throwing the bile out into the bowels, to act as a natural laxative and disinfectant. This alone is enough to drive away headaches, rheumatism, bad breath, sour stomach, and a whole chain of symptoms that make life miserable.

Now we see why the osteopath claims he does not treat the disease, but the thing that causes it. Just a word to those who are discouraged with trying to get well. Have you ever really had a thorough physical examination, to learn if there isn't some mechanical reason for your organs not working? Why not try it? I will be perfectly honest with you. If I cannot find the cause of your trouble, I will say so. I certainly do not want to take a case I cannot help.

There will be no charge for examination. My charges for treatment is $2.00 for single treatments, $10.00 to $25.00 per month for chronic troubles, depending upon the requirements of the case. Home phone 291.

The Anti-Saloon Scimitar

Published by the Anti-Saloon Campaign Committee of the Fifth Supervisorial District of Orange County, California.

Now to Business
The election having been officially called for the 25th of the current month, each one interested in promoting the citizenship and good name of our district must get into active work and stick close to it until the campaign is over. If we are finally defeated let none of us feel that it is because of our negligence or indifference on our part.

We may wonder why Mr. Coombs did not submit to the wishes of his friends and acquaintances, but wonder will do no good. Nor will wonder about this keep the saloon out of work. This is going to take work on the part of every person interested. The committee will do what it can, but it cannot do up for any part of it. That is up to you. Do your duty, and do it fully. Trust you for it.

The gentleman at Tustin says that he takes an occasional drink of beer, and keeps it always in the house. He will oppose the advent of a saloon as earnestly as possible, but if the "wets" win, he will do his best to get incorporation, which this would mean much to him, added taxes, etc. There are others like him.

This election has put some of the zone of the Fifth district in a peculiar position. Many of them came and bought homes largely because it is a prohibition section. Some of them are greatly alarmed now, fearing that, after having voted their money here largely to keep their families away from the saloon, the curse they fear about to be forced upon them. It is more than dollars and cents to them, though the financial question is added.

Good intentions have their proper value, but it will take more than intentions to keep the licensed saloon out of this district the coming year. It will take votes. The election won't pay any attention to good intentions.

The question in this campaign is whether or not any individual has the right to drink intoxicating drinks moderately. That is an matter. It is a question not hard to determine when carefully examined, but is not the issue just now. We have to decide the 25th is whether or not we will give legal sanction and protection to the saloon as an institution, and to the evils which we all agree follow it. Many who take an occasional drink will vote with us for the out-throwing of the institution.

We are fighting no individual. It is the institution—the licensed saloon in this institution—which we are after.

The Great Danger
Every person who is opposed to the entrance of licensed saloons into this district will be sure to vote against them, there is no doubt as to the result will be. The sentiment is strongly against it; but the danger lies in the indifference of the average element. Some of them

Founding Health You Can Have It

Every man and woman has an inherent right to have and enjoy the blessings of vigor, health and strength if they will utilize what science and nature have provided for the renewal and rebuilding of the human body.

Human system works on the same principle as a piece of machinery—when any one part ceases to do its work properly—the entire organization is affected.

Same all-wise Providence who created these bodies also provided remedies for our preservation. The most successful and efficacious remedies known to medical science are derived from herbs which nature intended as remedies for our ills.

Most successful herb preparation that has been compounded is Brackett's System or a "pleasant-tasting" tablet that contains absolutely no habit-forming drugs.

Dr. Robert A. Brackett's System Builder assists nature in giving vigor to the body by purifying and regenerating the blood, thereby strengthening the system, improving the circulation—overcoming weakness, debility, loss of ambition, vitality, by revitalizing, reinvigorating, stimulating and nerves to their highest efficiency, thus overcoming all chronic disorders of the system. seem to think that there will be an overwhelming majority for good government anyway. There will be if every person does his or her full duty; but if many of us depend on others to do the voting there is grave danger of defeat.

This is illustrated by the fact that, when there was a prospect of the withdrawal of the petition, many women who had fully intended to register delayed, saying that there would be plenty of time anyway. Now comes the decision of the supervisors fixing the date at the original time, shutting out all those who postponed registration beyond the proper date. Many votes have been lost right here. Don't let them catch us being so careless about our voting, now that we are registered.

Activity in Blind Pigs
If "blind pigs" could be sold by the pound one might make a bit of pocket money running them in now. The crop is splendid in our district. Those who pretend to know say that there have at least four opened up since the beginning of the campaign. And they are all under the manipulation of experienced hands, so that their suppression, under present laws, is practically impossible.

'Twas ever thus when a no-licensed campaign was on hand. A dollar spent for whiskey and distributed with judgment will buy more votes than ten times that amount applied directly to the voter as cash.

Man is a peculiar animal.

License vs. Blind Pigs
The old argument that it is better to have licensed saloons than "blind pigs" is doing duty again in this campaign. Some are even bringing it forth with all the eclat of a new thing under the sun. The fact is that it is so old that it has been exploded years ago, and no up-to-the-times license man will use it.

In the first place, the licensing of saloons by no means prevents the operation of "speak-easies," etc. In fact, a little investigation will show that there are often more blind pigs in a community hopelessly owned by the saloon interests than there are licensed places. It is even true that the big liquor interests have been known to back up blind pigs with their influence and their money in wide-open license districts. They are just as willing to save the license fee as anybody is; and besides, there is quite a class of men who would patronize a blind pig who would not go into an open saloon. It often gives them added political pull, too, by means of the men they thus get into their clutches. More than one saloon keeper today is running two or three joints with but one license; buying for all under cover of the one, and operating the others on the sly.

There are few men in the saloon business who have any true sense of honor. The writer knew one back in Wisconsin years ago whom he thought run as nearly a decent saloon as any man could. Developments showed that it was one of the vilest dives he ever knew.

Ordinarily speaking, a man who is low enough to run a saloon will run a "blind pig" on the side if he gets a chance.

How long ago was it that the police of Los Angeles pulled about forty blind pigs in one day? It hasn't been three months, has it? And surely no one can accuse Los Angeles of being anything like a prohibition city.

Any person who is contemptible enough to run an unlicensed saloon will not have his or her character changed by the fact that a majority of the people of the community have given them the privilege of paying license. Nor will many of them make any haste to pay their license fee. It is just as cheap to run without it, generally speaking, and often times cheaper. It would take more than a favorable vote for license right in this district to coax those "blind-piggers" of Delhi and Capistrano to take out a license. Under our present weak laws they know they can run on as long as they like. Our district attorney can't get a conviction, and they know it. Then why should they pay a license? They'll go right on selling without a license no matter how the election goes. But if we'll watch them they'll make a slip one of these days, and then, not merely a fine, but a good long term in the pen will do them a lot of good. But it won't convert them. They'll go right at it again when they get out. Pay a license? They'd laugh at you if you asked them.

But just to suppose that it did do away with some of the unlicensed places. It probably would not, but if it did, what then? Just this, that it is far more honorable for a community to stand against legalizing any wrong, even if that wrong is practiced within its boundaries, than to give that wrong its sanction through some system of permits or licenses. Some day our American conscience will come to see that it is just as contemptible and vile to vote to give a saloon legal standing as it is to conduct the saloon so permitted. When that time comes the saloon business will die. Liquor will continue to be sold, just as all crime continues, but it will be without legal sanction. So here and now, if the stuff must be sold, let it be done against the public protest, and against public legislation, rather than with anything bordering on approval.

Doesn't Decrease Taxes
One of the most frequent arguments against the suppression of the saloon is that we need its license fees to help us to pay the public expenses, and that taxes would be too heavy were we to banish them altogether. As to the facts in the case this is not proven by experience. It is a fact which any one who cares to may prove that the prohibition cities of California have a lower tax rate per $100 than the license cities of similar population. The reason for this—or rather the reasons, for they are multitudes—are too complex for a short article, but the stubborn fact remains that public documents demonstrate the truth.

Nor is this because the prohibition cities are "slow" and dilatory as regards public improvement and public expense. There are no cities on the map doing more in this line than Long Beach, Pasadena, Pomona, Santa Ana is a little sleepy yet, but there are signs of her awakening.

Briefly stated, the cause is that the saloon business is altogether parasitic in its nature. It is not of public benefit, but of public injury. Its products are not beneficial, but injurious. It causes public expense and public waste. It is destructive rather than constructive. It not only wastes the resources, but depreciates the power of production. It practically destroys the power of production in its patrons, and changes helpful citizens into a source of public expense. It lessens the amount of money which should be directed into channels of legitimate trade. It represents so slight a proportion of cost of production as compared with profit that it is one of the strongest elements a community can possibly possess toward the centralization of capital. Money directed through its channels is of but little public benefit, as compared with the same amount sent through the legitimate channels of food, clothing, homes, or even ordinary luxuries.

Either one of these statements, and others equally as strong, are susceptible of demonstration, and all economists are agreed as to their truthfulness.

Then comes the other side: the enormous increase of expense it entails. Could we drive out the drink altogether our courts, our police, our jails, our almshouses, our asylums, our pauper fund, and all related expenses would show a sharp decrease. This has been proven over and over.

No; license money is not a good investment!

But even if it were, what sort of reasoning is it which will sell the public good—public health or public morals, etc.—for any license fee, be it great or small? We all agree that the saloon, as an institution, is a curse. Then how can we even talk about licensing it, even if it should pay all our taxes? Where has American manhood sunk to when it will sell its conscience for a license fee?

Tustin Not Solid

In spite of the general opinion that Tustin will vote solidly against the saloon, there is going to be a considerable support for the proposed change. While the property owners here are almost solidly opposed there is an element, largely of young men, who have no property interests here, and whose only desire is to have what they call "a good time," which "good time" is the sort of which the song speaks when it says,

"But O, what a difference in the morning!"

They want their "booze," and to them their desires are greater than the welfare of themselves or the community in which they live. They "don't want their liberty curtailed," etc., etc. They want the blessed privilege of making fools of themselves, and think some of us "old fogies" who have had some experience in that line, are trying to interfere where we have no business, and to hold everybody down to our particular pace.

And one of the surprises which has been met in this campaign so far is that some of the boys who are generally all day determined to vote for a saloon. They are just the age when nearly or quite all the wisdom of the ages is compressed within their intellects, when life's responsibilities are but vagaries and realities are but dreams. They are just the right age, too, to listen with avidity to the arguments of those who are "working" them and holding them in line with the statements which they dare not make public because they are so easily disproven.

They are not bad fellows at heart—these "boys"—but are just at that unfortunate age, and are under the influence of unfortunate associations. But their votes count just the same, and unless we can find some way to show the underhand, dishonorable side of those who are posing as their friends, they will vote wrong. The problem is to show the opposition in its true light, and not under the glamour of false "honor."

But the main point is this: Don't count Tustin as a solid precinct against the proposed change. The Liquor Dealers have some active agents even here, and they are doing all they can.

James Willis Rice desires to announce that he has resumed his class. Those desiring violin instruction may communicate with Mr. Rice at Tustin.

BANKS

AND BUSINESS FIRMS

You give your trade to certain business firms not so much because their goods are different, but more because you receive satisfactory service, and treatment that makes you feel as though they appreciated your business, and were glad to do everything possible to please you and keep you a satisfied customer. The same rule applies to the banks. For example, a business man of standing should never be made to feel that a bank is doing him a favor in making a loan. It is part of a bank's business to loan money, and a customer pays for the use of it. Your bank ought to make you feel at home, and part and parcel of the institution. The remarkable growth and success of this bank is due to the kind of service that pleases the public.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Business was in only moderate volume. Receipts generally were about in keeping with the demand, and the market ruled firm along most lines. Fresh fruits were in light receipt, and of inferior quality. There was a fair movement of grapes, and fancy stock was firmly upheld. Soft stock was in heavy receipt, and dealers sacrificed their holdings. Good Muscats sold from 90 cents to $1.00 a box. Cornichons were quoted about $1.00 a box.

Cranberries attracted considerable attention, and held firm at $10 a barrel. A carload was received from Cape Cod, and put on the market at that figure. Dealers assert that there will be a good movement of these berries until after Christmas. A carload of Howes is expected about Saturday from the Middle West.

Apple arrivals were 11,167 boxes. There was a fair passing trade for apples, and the prevailing quotations were firmly upheld on all varieties. There was a good call for 3 1/2-tier boxes of Baldwin apples, which sold at $1.50.

Arrivals of fresh peaches were light, most of the stock sold at $1.25 a box. Receipts of pears were light, and what little was on the street came from storage, and received little attention.

The vegetable market was in good shape, and few changes were noted in prices. There was a good outlet for green stuff, due to a good demand from the fleet in the harbor.

The potato market showed firmness. Arrivals were 3272 sacks. The demand for spuds is not over heavy, just now, and most dealers are holding their stock in anticipation of a steady increase in prices, which is looked for.

The continued liberal arrivals of cauliflower, caused the market to decline, and yesterday most of the stock sold from 65 to 75 cents a dozen.

Tomatoes from local growers continued in heavy receipt, with the result that dealers were disposing of their stock in the buyers' favor. The top price on the best tomatoes was 45 cents a lug box.

Sweet potato arrivals were 127 sacks. No change was noted in prices. The market was dull, and $1.75 a hundred weight was the top price.

The onion situation was unchanged. The market ruled firm at the old figures, with a fair market reported. Receipts were 1929 sacks.

Cucumbers were in light receipt. There was a good call for cucumbers; an advance of 10 cents a lug box was noted.

noted. The top price on the stock was 75 cents.

Egg arrivals were 76 cases. The market ruled firm, with a good demand. Pullet eggs were in good call. The scarcity of fresh eggs along the Coast is keeping the prices well along toward the 50-cent market. The San Francisco market is quoted canned select stock at 53 1/2 cents a dozen, with the market steady at that figure.

The butter market showed no change in prices. Arrivals were 26,425 pounds. The bulk of the receipts were of unattractive grades, and prices on fine creamy butter were firmly upheld.

Cheese receipts were 964 pounds. The market on all varieties was reported as ruling firm. Domestic Swiss and full cream cheese were best in call.

Bean receipts were 2026 sacks.

Man Admitted to Theater on Pass Reluctant to Express Disapproval Like Rest of Audience

The play was an execrable bad one, and the company playing it was even worse. When the curtain fell on the first act, sounds of marked disapprobation were heard from all parts of the house. One man alone sat quiet. At the close of the second act a perfect tornado of moans, cat-calls and hisses broke out. Still the man sat unmoved. At last a man sitting in the next seat turned to him and said: "Pardon me, but are you not disgusted with this wretched play?"

"I am, indeed," heartily concurred the silent one. "Then why don't you signify your displeasure like the rest of us?" "Well, you see, it's this way with me. I am here on a free ticket, and as I am getting something for nothing, I hardly feel justified in expressing my disapproval; but I'll tell you what," he concluded with emphasis, "if this confounded play gets much worse I am going out to the box office and buy a ticket, and then I will come back and hiss like the rest of you." Roman Marriage

When Rome became the master state of the Mediterranean world, and especially during the last century of the republic, woman, aside from a few slight limitations of form rather than of substance, had already acquired legal and economic independence, the condition necessary for social and moral equality. As to marriage, the affianced pair could at that time choose between two different legal family regimes; marriage with manus, the older form, in which all the goods of the wife passed to the ownership of the husband, so that she could no longer possess anything in her own name; or marriage without manus, in which only the dowry became the property of the husband, and the wife remained mistress of all her other belongings and all that she might acquire.

Except in some cases, and for special reasons, in all the families of the aristocracy, by common consent, marriages, during the last centuries of the republic, were contracted in the latter form; so that at the time married women directly and openly had gained economic independence.

EYE-WITNESSES TELL JURY OF TRAGEDY

Girl's Remark Concerning
Shooting Distance Stricken
From the Record

FOUR ON STAND FOR PROSECUTION

Further Evidence in Overacker
Murder Trial to Be Given on Monday

Three witnesses who saw S. H. Overacker kill G. A. Winn at Newhope on Jan. 13, 1910, were examined by District Attorney West yesterday in the trial of Overacker for murder. First was the widow, Mrs. Eliza Winn; second, the daughter of the dead man, Miss Vera Winn, aged 16, and, third, Mrs. Sarah Holyland, a neighbor. Their testimony was clear and concise, and agreed as to the main details of the shooting as alleged by the prosecution.

One point the district attorney was very careful to bring out. That point was as to whether or not Winn had a gun in his hands when he went from his house to the disputed dike and when he was fired upon by Overacker. All three witnesses declared he had no gun. He had a shovel with which he was digging when Overacker from his fence took aim and fired. Winn dropped the shovel, and ran away, and was staggering along when he was hit by the second and third bullets from Overacker's rifle.

The reason the prosecution was particular concerning the point is that Overacker and his wife in their testimony at the first trial said that Winn carried a gun, that he aimed that gun at Overacker and that Overacker shot in self-defense.

When Miss Vera Winn told the story of the shooting she said a few words that indicated that she believed that her father was shot deliberately.

"Overacker was on the dike shoveling," she said. "My father was going across the pasture. Mr. Overacker kept looking up, and when he thought father was in good shooting range he ran to the fence."

Attorney Rush for the defense immediately moved to have the answer concerning "good shooting range" stricken from the record, and the district attorney consented as it was the conclusion of the witness.

Mrs. Holyland was standing at her kitchen window when the shooting occurred. On cross-examination she was asked if she was unfriendly to the Overacker family. She said that she simply had nothing to do with them.

Further hearing in the case was adjourned yesterday afternoon until Monday.

WALNUT THIEVES GIVEN SIX MONTHS

Sheriff Landed on Gang at Anaheim Last Night; Con-

HEIGHTS COMPANY SUES AUTO DRIVER

Arch Beach Real Estate Men
Tie Up Nye's Machines
By Attachment

Sheriff Ruddock and Constable Squires made a killing last night. They landed four Anaheim Mexicans in the county jail, and this morning three of them pleaded guilty to stealing walnuts. Each of the three, Jose Guiterrez, Jose Sarcido and Francisco Marquez, was sent to jail for six months.

There has been a brisk business in walnut stealing in the Anaheim and Fullerton districts, and a brisk business has been done by Sheriff Ruddock and his officers, assisted by the Fullerton and Anaheim officers. In the last week six men were arrested on charges of stealing walnuts from Henry Federer and A. I. Stewart of Fullerton. Their preliminary examinations come up tomorrow.

Yesterday the sheriff learned that some Mexicans at Anaheim were making efforts to quietly sell some walnuts. The officers got on the trail, and last night they raided the Mexicans' houses and recovered fifteen sacks of walnuts and two and a half sacks of walnut meats. These were hidden under woodpiles, in boxes and attics. Beside the three sentenced to six months, Jose Nunez and Mrs. Alandra Marquez were arrested.

The woman has been doing her stealing by the bucket. She was out picking walnuts and every time she went home she carried a bucketful of nuts.

Auto Driver Sued

Two automobiles belonging to Richard Nye were attached yesterday afternoon by Constable Jackson as the result of a suit brought by the Arch Beach Heights Co. against Nye for $221.72. Nye drove the Leguna Beach auto bus upon which the Heights company transported passengers to and from the tracts at Arch Beach. The complaint asserts that $441.92 was advanced Nye by the company, and that he still owes $221.72. The plaintiffs are G. O. France, A. W. Rounseval, C. A. Saint and R. M. Alexander, members of the Heights company.

AMERICANS EAT TOO MUCH—TIPS TOO BIG ABETS BAD SYSTEM

Los Angeles Tribune: "The American bill of fare is perhaps the most wonderful thing in this wonderful country, said Frederick F. Milford of Australia at the Hotel Hollenbeck. "People eat too much here. When I select a dinner at one of your restaurants or hotels I marvel at the lavish amount of food you require. And the American system of large tips—well, it is scandalous. In Europe it is the fashion to give one or two cents for services rendered, but here many men usually give a quarter or a half dollar for the simplest service. These large tips are compelled by the tipping system, which is nothing less than piracy."

Milford is the owner of a large sheep ranch in Australia, near Sydney, and is on the far end of a European and American tour, as he returns to his country this month.

"I tried to plant about 5000 acres of my ranch in wheat last year, but I couldn't get the labor to do the work. The Hindoo, the negro and almost all other races are barred from immigrating into the country. Only Chinese and Japanese are allowed and they are required to pass a rigid examination in the English language and laws. And yet the Japanese continue to come in. The Chinese and Japanese who come in also have to pay a $500 poll tax."
